

David Green

Microsoft Corporation

David Green is Senior Attorney at Microsoft, in the Copyright and Trade Secret practices group for LCA. He advises Microsoft on intellectual property and legal business matters related to its products and online services, and provides strategic input on next generation technologies. He was formerly Associate General Counsel to Corbis Corporation in all aspects of business and legal matters, with a special focus on intellectual property. Dave serves as both Advisory Board Member and teacher for the University of Washington's Program in IP Management.